PUBLIC SCHOOL QUESTION.—At the Alka-Hesperian society the public library question comes up tonight in shape of a proposal to elect five trustees. The debate is over the public schools, the question being raised as to whether they are not really detrimental to the young. This will be pretty apt to interest our twenty-eight public school teachers and teachers of many private schools. This society continues to grow in membership and seems to have a faculty of finding the question of vital interest of the hour.

COMMITTED.—John Martin, a resident of Columbia county, aged about 25, was committed to the county jail Friday evening on charge of larceny by bailie, founded on the taking of a horse from Ellis & Whitley's stable at Salem, Sept. 8, and disposing of same. He says he is not the man, but has a double by the same name and can prove an alibi. He will write to his father at Portland, who will take him out. The Martin takes no stock in this and Martin is identified by the men at the stable.

DOCTORS' TROUBLES.—This foggy, chilly weather enables the physician to put money in his purse rapidly, and yet the harvest season has its drawbacks. Night rides in the country are what try men's souls and when to this is added the danger of footpads, the calling is nearly as hard as that of the reporter who must be out in all kinds of weather. A Salem physician who had to make a midnight trip in East Salem the other night was followed by two men and had to call a neighbor to go with him.

WILL ELECT.—Talks with Republican politicians at Salem, reveal the fact that the office of County Judge Davidson and Attorney-General Chamberlain, must, in their opinion, be filled by election in June next. There are some who hold the opposite view in the case of these particular offices, and if they are filled by nominations at the general election there may be controversy in the courts.

BOUND FOR SALEM.—R. R. Ryan, a Salem boomer, who has been working up an excursion for the Pacific coast, writes that a special excursion will leave Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 1st for Portland, via Los Angeles. Persons purchasing farms or city property in the Willamette valley will be given a discount of ten per cent on the amount of their tickets. Mr. Ryan will bring quite a company to Salem.

POOR DOG.—Richard Swartz's big black watch dog was run over in the fog Friday night and nearly cut in two. The poor brute was almost instantly killed, his entrails were torn out and a large pool of blood was left on the street.

STREET CAR PROPERTIES.

Capitalist Investigating a Salem Plant—Sale of the Horse Car Line.

R. S. Vivian, an Englishman and capitalist from Kansas City has been in the city several days the past week, and departed for the Sound cities Friday night.

He made an investigation of the Capital City Electric Railway plant with a view to an investment of eastern capital. He was seen by a reporter as he was leaving and expressed himself as very favorably impressed with the street railway property of this city.

AT SHERIFF'S SALE.
The horse car line was advertised for sale to the highest bidder, under a mortgage to H. W. Cottle Saturday, Jan. 23, at 1 p. m.

Sheriff Crahan required ten minutes to read the notice of sheriff sale and then the real estate and franchise was bid off to E. F. Parkhurst for $11,600. The sale will be confirmed by the court Feb. 5th.

THE COUNTY COURT.

FRIDAY.
In the matter of the petition praying for the establishment of Macleay precinct, with voting place at Macleay, was continued until Thursday, February 4th.

The order establishing Salem precinct No. 5 was reconsidered and Salem No. 4 established. The boundaries are: Ferry street on the north, railroad on the east, Mission street on the south, and river on the west.

PREPARING FOR ELECTION.

Judges and clerks of election were appointed for the remaining precincts as follows:

Salem No. 3—W. F. Boothby, Gideon Stolz and W. H. Byrd, judges; Ed. N. Edes and L. B. McClane, clerks.

Salem No. 4—Geo. P. Hughes, O. D. Hutton, and Cyrus Woodworth, judges; G. G. Brown and—Purdy, clerks.

The court adjourned sine die.

MARION COUNTY ALLIANCE.

Annual Election of the Farmers Organization—Officers for 1892.

There was some misunderstanding as to the day for the annual meeting of the Marion County F. A. & M. B. Ass'n. A number came in on the 23d, thinking that the right time, so that the attendance on both days was reduced.

The annual session was called to order on the latter date at 1 o'clock, with a good attendance.

OFFICERS FOR 1892.
President, Geo. W. Weeks; vice president, W. W. Culver; secretary, T. C. Davidson; treasurer, W. H. Darby; chaplain, J. A. Norwood; lecturer, John Jory; steward, Levy Herren; doorkeeper, Lon Woods; assistant doorkeeper, M. M. Lewis.

GRAND TEMPERANCE LECTURE.

Mrs. Cox, the National Organizer, Will Speak at Willamette Tonight.

Mrs. Delle C. H. Cox, the national organizer of the W. C. T. U., who delivered a fine address at Willamette chapel on last Wednesday evening, has been induced to speak again at the chapel tonight. Her first appearance before a Salem audience created such a favorable impression that requests have been made for another lecture. Mrs. Cox has had fifteen years' experience in the work, and it is hoped that she will be greeted by a large audience at the chapel tonight. Business men and all voters especially invited.

PASTORAL CALLS.—Rev. Robt. Whitaker of Salem, is waging vigorous warfare on this abuse, in the Pacific Baptist.

In the last issue he says: "Let them not slight their work of visiting the sick, the stranger or the spiritually needy, but let them resolutely refuse to run about at the beck of men and women whose voice of any real convictions. The pastor who yields to such a demand is not dishonored by being dubbed a 'rotter' and his practice is not inaptly described as 'dogging.'"

In his fight on pastoral calls he is strongly sustained by Chaplain C. C. Bateman in a letter to the same paper says: "To say that the minister is a 'rotter' and a 'trotter' whose pastoral work becomes plastering work to keep people in good humor with him personally is as superlatively ridiculous as it is shockingly common." It would seem that a minister has a right to call on a neighbor if he is in trouble, or if he has any business with him, just like another.

GOOD MEN.—Several persons are disposed to criticize the literary society that is promoting the free public library, for asking that a majority of the trustees belong to the society. The society is composed of many young men and some of our so-called solid citizens. It is maintained by members of the society that they have no desire but to secure the selection of the very best men for trustees and that some of its members are as able, enthusiastic and competent as any.

DEAD CHINESE.—Wen Sun Yu, age 35, died Friday evening at 6:30 in Chinatown. He was sick a long time and formerly was employed in the family of Werner Breymann, of this city. He was well liked, and four carriage loads of Chinese of the better class attended his funeral. A hearse was employed, and the remains taken to the Chinese burying ground. A wagon with an abundant supply of provisions accompanied the procession.

Prof. Starr goes to Silverton Sunday, to hold quarterly meeting. Friday they discuss the value of a peculiar genus homo, called lawyers.

Rev. H. B. Elworthy, who is related to the University by marriage led chapel Tuesday.

Prof. Ames, who has been absent since the holiday, giving readings on the sound, returns Monday.

Rev. J. N. Denison, of the Portland hospital, a former student at Willamette was present Monday at chapel and conducted the exercises.

The classes in shorthand and typewriting, are progressing well. These requirements form valuable adjuncts to a good business education.

Mrs. Cox, of Newberg, lecturer for the W. C. T. U. was present at chapel Friday. Her lecture of Wednesday was much praised. She speaks again at the chapel Saturday at 7:30.

Dr. Whitaker has had a flag made out of the University colors, of a permanent style, which he purposes donating to the school. It is quite handsome, and we are obliged for the gift.

When a rope is put on the bell, and the springs are adjusted so that the clapper will strike properly, the bell will have a deeper and more resonant peal.

The Philodorian society will give an entertainment soon to get funds to replace the furniture lost by the fire. Your reporter caught a sundry glimpse of the entertainment that were highly entertaining.

The Philodorian are circulating a subscription, and have some generous contributions. The boys are settling political questions now. McKinley's bill was discussed. They say the president is a free trader.

Among other visitors, Rev. C. R. Kellerman, L. L. Mann, a former student, and Mrs. Southwick favored us by their presence. We are especially glad when our townspeople visit chapel and see our semblance of students. They will feel renewed interest in the school.

AN INDIAN WAR VETERAN.

Reminiscence of Hon. J. B. McLean—An Efficient Officer.

EDITOR JOURNAL: By your permission I will give the public a few more facts in reference to the character of the late John B. McLean. I first became acquainted with him in 1845 in Salem near where Lincoln Wade's store now stands, at L. H. Judson's, who afterwards became his father-in-law. Our acquaintance opened up into a warm friendship which lasted up to the day of his death. In the winter of 1847-8 when the news of the murder of Dr. Marcus Whitman and some 12 or 14 other white persons, by the Cayuse Indians at Waiilatpu Mission, reached the valley, J. B. McLean was among the first to enlist in answer to the call of Gov. Geo. Abernethy in Co. C of the 1st regiment of Oregon mounted riflemen, Capt. H. J. G. Maxon commanding. Said company with some three others were organized on the 8th day of Jan. 1848, and I believe it was through me that Col. Cornelius Gilliam who was to be our commander became acquainted with J. B. McLean and at once appointed him his private secretary and he became very popular among the officers and men of this command. He was in the engagement near the mouth of Tye valley in Wasco county on about the 30th of Jan. 1848, and was in the engagement between the Well springs and Butter creek on about the 22nd of Feb. 1848, and again in the last engagement that was fought which was a two days battle and was fought between the Cannon and the Touchet, two streams running into Snake river and now in Walla Walla or Waiilatpu counties on the 13th or 14th of March, in all of which he proved himself to be a brave bold Indian fighter and on account of which he was loved and respected by all the command. The command immediately returned to Fort Waters and after holding a council of war it was determined that Col. Gilliam should take about 100 men and proceed to The Dalles for supplies and on their way down, at Well springs the colour was accidentally shot and instantly killed. Mr. McLean came on down with the escort and I believe was discharged by the governor, at Oregon City.
